DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 26 of U.S. Patent No.

6,391,026. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 1 of the present invention only positively recites a method of treating a breast comprising applying vibration to the duct (where to the duct can be internal or external to the breast). Claim 26 of Hung recites the same method comprising treating a breast by vibrational energy. Although the vibrational energy of Hung is used to activate the agent in the duct, the result is still an application of ultrasound to the duct. The vibrational energy of the Hung patent is also used to increase the amount of retrievable cells via activation of the agent.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hung '228 in view of Love, along with Powell and Kim

Hung discloses in col. 11, lines 65- col. 12, lines 40 a method for increasing a retrievable cell amount, substantially as claimed. However, Hung discloses massaging the breast. Love teaches in figures 1-7C a method for increasing a retrievable cell using a mild vacuum to the nipple to collect cells from the breast. Powell teaches in figures 1-3 using suction and vibration to obtain milk from the breast. Kim teaches using vibration that includes ultrasound to collect cells from the body (col. 3, lines 46-59). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that vibration as taught by Powell and Kim could be substituted for massaging as disclosed by Hung because vibration or massaging can be used to stimulate the breast and cause cells to come from the breast. Applying vibration to the breast duct would definitely increase the amount of cells that could be retrieved and collected from the breast duct. Massaging, vibrating and applying a vacuum to the body are interchangeable. All three are used to increase the flow of fluid from the breast (these fluids can include milk which will include cells). The vibration is applied externally to the breast as taught by Powell. Powell teaches applying warm water (heat) to the breast. Love and Hung teach collecting cells through ductal lavage.
